Dear Competition Participants,

I would like to extend my best wishes to all of you who have come to participate in the 2017 Stars at Tenerife Festival-Competition. Thomas Carlyle said that, “Music is said to be the speech of Angels”, and I am sure that he was right.

Music, as a universal language is an important and powerful aspect of our lives. This prestigious, intensive competition encourages, recognizes and rewards the dreams and aspirations of those young people who hope to make music their profession. On behalf of LISMA Foundation and Long Island Conservatory of Music I commend all organizers and participants who chose to affiliate with this remarkable, harmonious endeavor, as I acknowledge the significance of this marvelous initiative for serious students.

I wish you all success, good luck and praise for all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely,
